When solo obstetrician Joshua Barron suffers a heart attack, he is forced to confront his biggest fear: taking on a partner. Sharing a medical practice is no easy task for Dr. Barron, whose driven attitude and possessive patient-care ideals are difficult to match. Joshua's rural New Hampshire world is thrown a curve with the entrance of Alex Faber, an attractive young OB/GYN from New York City, whose spunk, passion and intellect shake loose some disturbances in the small town's typically quiet landscape. Join Joshua and Alex for a year in Breedville, where, as the seasons change, so does the drama. Personal issues become public, and the past begins to creep into the town's bucolic present. Tensions extend to Breed General Hospital, where complex situations ranging from infertility and cancer to medical malpractice unfold, often in front of the entire community. In the field of obstetrics and gynecology, the complexities of life are deeply felt. This couldn't be more true than for Joshua Barron and Alex Faber as they struggle through the year 1988- the year they join together in Private Practice.

Samuel Freeman:

As a pupil exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's spirit or real their leisure activity. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful images on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this period, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Private Practice can make you really feel more interested to read.
